THE TRI-WEEKLY YEOMAN.

Hon. John C. Breckinridge.

The great wrong which our city suffers in being arbitrarily deprived of her lawfully established police received last night most con-clusive illustration. A large crowd at an early hour in the evening assembled in front of the Eutaw House for the purpose of paying their respects to those bold and eloquent champions of popular rights, John C. Breckinridge and Clement L. Vallandigham, whose fearless denunciations of executive usurpations have endeared them to the lovers of true liberty all

A little before ten o'clock, Mr. Breckinridge, who was entirely unaware of any purpose on the part of his friends to give him such a demonstration, and who had just returned from a visit to a friend in the country, with whom he had spent the day, in response to the vociferous calls of the immense body of citizens who had by that time gathered to do him honor, appeared on the front portico of the hotel to return his thanks for the cordial and enthusiastic greeting which had been thus spontaneously extended to him. A report of his remarks will be found in another column. They were such as become an American Senator conscious of the dignity and responsibility of his position, thoroughly convinced of the truth of his views, and bent upon expressing them without reserve.

He had not, however, proceeded far in his bold and stirring remarks, when an attempt was made by a disorderly gang in the crowd to force him to desist. All manner of opprobious epithets were heaped upon him; hisses and groans were largely indulged in, and the Federal police not only looked approvingly on regardless of their duty, but actually did all in their power to break up the meeting, by beating and arresting those who dared to express their indignation at such disorderly and disgraceful proceedings.

The bearing of Mr. Breckinridge during this trying scene was most calm and dignified. He addressed a few scathing observations to the disturbers of the peace, which were receiv-ed with the most tumultuous applause by the vast throng of his friends. From the position he occupied he could distinctly see the proceedings of the squad who seemed, with the aid of the police, determined if possible to create a riot, and bore his emphatic testimony that the disorder was invariably created by those whose duty it was to preserve the peace.

Those few rowdies who imagined that they could intimidate and silence the gallant Kentuckian at last found out their mistake, and permitted him to finish his remarks.

There was notime during the evening when There was no time during the evening when an honest effort on the part of the police could not have put a stop to the riotous proceedings of the small squad of rowdies, whose object was to prevent Mr. Breckinridge from being heard. They not only failed to do their duty, but actively participated in the disturbance. Especially when allusion was made by the speaker to the absent commissioners, now illespeaker to the absent commissioners, now illegally detained in a distant fortress. Notwithstanding their demonstrations the meeting was a most hearty tribute to Mr. Breckinridge, which shows the feeling of our citizens, and cannot fail to be gratifying to him.

While the groaning and noise was at its height, the speaker, raising his voice until it sounded far above the tumult below, exclaimed that though the poor wretches who were glorying in their degradation might try to insult him, the time would come when their children would bless him for the efforts he had made to protect and sustain the Constitution and the laws.

Great Truths.

"I don't understand how a man can claim to be a friend of the Union, and yet be in favor of war upon ten millions of people in the Dr. Mills Drug Store.

Of every description and material, at Dr. Mills' Drug Store. You cannot cover it up much longer under the pretext of love for the Union "War is disunion, certain, inevitable, final and irrepressible."-Stephen A. Douglas.

"Suppose you go to war, you cannot fight always; and when, after much loss on both sides, and no gain on either, you cease fighting, the identical questions, as to terms of intercourse, are again upon you."—President Lincoln's Inaugural Message.

"If such a struggle is once begun, and the citizens of one section of the country are arrayed in arms against those of the other, in doubtful conflict, let the battle result as it may, there will be an end of the Union, and with it an end of the hope of freedom. The victory of the injured would not secure to them the blessings of liberty; it would avenge their wrongs, but they would themselves share in the common ruin. The Constitution cannot be maintained, nor the Union preserved, in opposition to public feeling, by the mere coercive powers confided to the Government."—Andrew Jackson, in his Farewell Address.

"The suggestion that the Union can be maintained by the numerical predominance and military prowess of one section exerted to coerce the other into submission, is, in my judgment, as self-contradictory as it is danger It comes loaded with the death smell from fields wet with brothers' blood. If the WILL practice law in the Court of Appeals, in the Franklin Circuit Court, and all other State Courts held in Frankfort, and will attend to the collection of debts for non-residents in any part of the State of the States require as its basis the harmony of its State.

He will as Commissioner of Deeds, take the acknowledgments of deeds, and other writing to be used or recorded in other States; and, as Commissioner unver the act of Congress, attend to the taking of depositions. affidavits, etc.

States require as its basis the harmony of its members and their voluntary co-operation in its organic functions."—Edward Everett's letter of acceptance of the Union nomination for Vice President in 1860 Vice President in 1860.

Letter from Lexington---Movements of Lincoln Troops --- Munitions of War-Railroad Guard-

LEXINGTON, KY., Aug. 10th, '61. Editors Louisville Courier: While at Nicholasville last night some thirty or forty cavalry, belonging to Col. Bramlette's regiment of the Federal force, which is to make a raid on East Tennessee, arrived, and were placed as a guard over the arms and the other munitions of war which have been shipped to Nicholasville by the Abolitionists. Bombshells and all other kinds of war implements are daily sent to the camp at Hoskins. They guard all the wagon trains now, and at all the trestle works on the railroad they have guards eleven wagons loaded with all kinds of guns. pistols, &c., and on leaving town many of them cheered for Mr. Lincoln and Garrett Davis, whom they said should depose Gover-HAS just received his large and extensive stock of nor Magoffin in two weeks. Congressman Ely sends a letter to President Lincoln, which is understood to be decidedly in favor of recognizing the Southern HOUSE FURNISHING STORE. Confederacy, so far as the exchange of prisoners is concerned.

A Million Men. By some shrewd engineering, a bill supplementary to the Volunteer Bill passed through Congress, by which the President is authorized to accept the services of one milion of men. Exchange. There was no "shrewd engineering" about it. It was simply a stupid mistake, that illustrates the character of the present Congress, and the manner in which they do business. They intended to pass but one bill; but, so careless was their watch, that two bills got through. It was by a mere accident that two bills appropriating five hundred millions of dollars did not pass, instead of one, as was designed. Bills calling out half a million of men for the battle field, and appropriating five hundred millions of dollars of the people's money, were not thought of in the present Congress any more than former Congresses considered a stationery item for the use of members. They voted, with ready obsequiousness. bers. They voted, with ready obsequiousness, six hundred thousand more men and one hundred millions more dollars than the President asked for. They put bills through before they were printed, and before members had a chance to read them. Debate was cut off; gag rules were applied; and the money and men of the people were used with a prodigality and recklessness of which no parallel can be found in history.—Cin. Eng. W. H. KEENE,

For the Speedy and Permanent Cure of Seminal Weakness, Nocturnal and Diurnal Emissions, Nervous and General Debility, Impotence, and all Diseases arising from Solitary Habits, or Excessive Indulgence.

THERE are thousands of Young Men, as well as MIDDLE AGED and OLD MEN, who are suffering to some extent from the above diseases. Many, perhaps, are not aware of their true condition, or when assistance is really needed. are not aware of their true condition, or when assistance is really needed.

For the benefit of such, we herewith give a few of the most common symptoms, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Head and Side, dimness of Sight, Dots and Webs before the Eyes, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Aversion to Society, Self-Distrust, Timidity, etc. For each and all of the above symptoms these remedies will be found a "Sovereign Balm."

These remedies embrace three prescriptions: A box of Pastels, a box of Nervous Tonic Pills, and a box of Virile Tonic Pills, all of which have important offices to perorm, and should be used together in every case. Their superiority over other modes of treatment may be briefly stated as follows, viz:

Gentlemen:—The confidence I have in Perry Davis'
Pain Killer as a remedy for Colds. Coughs. Burns Sprains, and Rheumatism, for the cure of which have successfully used it, induces me to cheerfully recommend its virtues to others.

A few months ago I had recourse to it to destroy a felon; although I had never heard of its being used for that purpose; but having suffered intensely from a former one, and having no other remedy at hand, I applied the Pain Killer freely for about fifteen minutes at evening, and repeated the application very briefly the next morning, which entirely destroyed the felon, and increased my confidence in the utility of the remedy.

Yours truly,
Minister of the Wesleyan Methodist Church.

The Genesis of the War.

That this war of subjugation was coolly and deliberately planned by the Republican party of the North for the purpose of abolishing slavery, is provable almost to demonstration gression upon the Constitutional rights of the slave States, which began with the annexaaugmenting in force, like the descending weight, as it neared its centre of gravitation. Up to a period immediately succeeding the inauguration of Lincolu, the conservative men of the whole country were yet sanguine of a peaceful solution of the controversy, and the preservation of the Union on the basis of a fair and just compromise. The proposition of Mr. Crittenden was eminently such. It would have satisfied the South; it would have abridged none of the rights, and impaired none of the interests of the North. of Mr. Pugh, of Ohio, to his belief that it would have carried his State as it had been ndorsed by the Legislature of Virginia and when on the Committee of Thirteen, ready at all times to compromise on the Crittenden proposition." Mr. Toombs, only last January, spoke in the Senate as follows:

That the war would have been prevented by the acceptance of this measure by the Black Republican chiefs in Congress, admits of no doubt. But they had no mind to forego their cherished purposes for the sake of securing the lasting and permanent tranquility of the country. The country would not be the worse for a little blood-letting, said Mr. Giddings, with a calm ferocity, at once philosophical and flendish. What! are we to forego all the advantages of a great victory, and just in the moment of triumph give up every princi-ple we have been contending for? inquired Seward, Greeley, and all the host of them. The hope of compromise was thus promptly nipped in the bud. Every modification of Mr. Crittenden's resolutions which patriotic Mr. Crittenden's resolutions which patriotic out your county, and recover the Arms, &c., belonging to disbanded Companies, and forthwell that that time already seconded. That hostilities would ultimately if not speedily follow, few discerning men called in question, and coercion was proclaimed as the imperative duty of the administration. "Hang the traitors," was already the slogan.

For the first time in his life, Garrison himself thought there was some honesty and earn-estness among Republican politicians. He saw the cause in which he had been laboring for more than thirty years now espoused by a powerful faction, who would give no slumber to their eyes until every slave owner on the continent should be a ruined man. Slavery was at last to be extinguished, and if by rivers of blood, no matter; perhaps so much better. Humble, cripple, crush out the South; desolate her fair fields, and let her beautiful nomes of elegance, refinement and courtesy, become homes of sorrow and penury, or smouldering ruins.

Such was the genesis of the war. It is in vain to impute the inception of it to the South Facts, recent and well known to all, overwhelmingly refute the assumption. The war is preeminently and wholly an anti-slavery It contemplates the confiscation every slave from the Potomac to the Rio Grande, and the manumission by legislative act of all the rest. The overthrow of State governments, the encroachment by Lincoln upon the judicial and legislative departments of the Federal Government, the abrogation of the rights established by Magna Charta, and the destruction of the vested rights of nonslaveholding citizens, are but episodes, scenes in the tragedy. The annihilation of ties are subordinate.-Missourian, August 12.

Col. Hanson stands upon the position of neutrality—but he is for real, practical, neu-trality. He is opposed to Kentucky plunging into this war as a belligerent against the Confederate States. He has visited Virginia Confederate States. He has visited Virginia and Tennessee, and found the people of those States united and animated by the loftiest purpose that ever moved a free people. He thinks the war cannot be successfully prosecuted; that the Southern States cannot be conquered, that the Union cannot be saved by war, and that it would be madness for Kentucky to incur the ruin and calamity of a war which is certain to be a failure. He Kentucky to incur the ruin and calamity of a war which is certain to be a failure. He thinks the rebellion cannot be quelled, and it is madness to continue the effort. He warned the people that Kentucky stood now on the verge of war, and was in immediate danger being drawn down into the abyss of abolitionism. He had opposed secession; and was for neutrality. He never approved Kentucky's taking part in the war, and is still for neutrality. But if the State was to be involved and Kentucky will not be allowed to be neually produce the same result? tral, he, for one, will take his position with his own native South. These sentiments elicited the most rapturous applause from the vast crowd. Col. Hanson will address the people again.-Lexington (Ky.) Statesman.

THE PEACE PARTY .- Day by day the peace party in this country is growing stronger and stronger. The first flush of angry excitement having passed away, and the stern and horrible realities of war having begun to manifest themselves, the conservative thinking portion of the community are beginning to ask them-selves what can be gained by all this bloodshed and devastation? And they find the question, when considered in its various bearings, far more easily asked than answered. Each day the suicidal policy of the administration be comes more and more evident. Each day the people see more clearly that it is folly to build up an immense national debtto lie like an incubus upon the energies and resources of the country for years. They are beginning to understand that the sacrifice of thousands of lives is wrong, when calm negotiation will settle every difference. They have abundant evidence that the war, if prolonged, will utup an immense national debt to lie like an inevidence that the war, if prolonged, will utterly ruin every business man at the North, and throw the entire laboring class into a state of destitution and distress never before witnessed on this continent. Life Pills and Phoenix Bitters. THESE MEDICINES have now been before the public for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the Globe, for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing variety of human diseases in which the

VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES Are well known to be infallible.

DYSPEPSIA, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind; FLATULENCY, LOSS OF APPETITE, HEARTBUEN, HEADACHE, RESTLESSNESS, ILL-TEMPER, ANNIETY, LANGUOR, and MELANCHOLY, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

COST VENESS, by cleansing the whole length the intestines with a solvent process, and without plence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive within two days.

FEVERS of all kinds, by restoring the blood to tregular circulation, through the process of respiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all nestinal obstruction in others.

The LIFE MEDICINES have been known to cure RHEUMATISM permanently in three weeks, and GOUT in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of the injects.

DROPSIES of all kinds, by freeing and strength-ning the kidneys and bladder; they operate most dightfully on these important organs, and hence we ever been found a certain remedy for the worst nave ever been found a certain remedy for the worst asses of GHAVEL. Also WORMS, by dislodging from the turnings of the bowels the slimy matter to which these creatures adhere.
SCURVY, ULCERS, and INVETERATE SORES, by the perfect purity which these LIFE MEDICINES give to the blood, and all the humors.

SCORPUTIC ERUPTIONS and BAD COMPLEXIONS, by their alterative effect upon the fluids that feed the skin, and the morbid state of which occasions all eruptive complaints, sallow, cloudy, and other disagreeable complexions. dy, and other disagreeable complexions.

Proclamation of the Governor. Whereas, numerous applications have been aade to me from many good citizens of this Commonwealth, praying me to issue a procla-mation forbidding the march of any forces of his or any other State or States over our soil, o make an apprehended attack upon the dederal forces at Cairo, in Illinois, or to disturb any otherwise the peaceful attitude of Kentucky with reference to the deplorable war now waging between the United States and the Confederate States. And whereas, numerous applications from like good citizens of this Commonwealth have also been made to me, praying me to issue a proclamation forbidding the occupation of any post or place, or the march over our sacred soil by any force of the United States for any purpose. And whereas, it is made fully evident, by every indication of public sentiment, that it is the determined purpose of the good people of Kentucky to maintain, with courageous firmness, the fixed position of self-defense, proposing or intending no invasion or aggression towards any other State or States, forbidding the quartering of troops upon her soil by either of the hostile sections, but simply standing aloof from an unnatural, horrid and lamentable strife, for the existense of which Kentucky, neither by thought, word, nor act, is in any wise responsible. And whereas, the policy thus recommended by so many of my fellow-citizens of all political leanings, is, in my judgment, wise, peaceful, safe, and honorable, and the most likely to preserve peace and amity between the neighboring bordering States on both shores of the Ohio river, and protect Kentucky, generally, from the ravages of a deplorable war. And whereas, the arms distributed to the "State Guard," composed as it is of gentlemen equally conscientious and honest, who entertain the opinions of both parties, are not to be used against the Federal Government nor the Confederate States, but to resist and prevent encroachments upon her soil, her rights, her honor, and her sovereignty by either of the belligerent parties, and to preserve the peace, safety, prosperity, and happiness and strict neutrality of her peopte, in the hope she may soon have an opportunity to become a suc-cessful mediator between them; and in order to remove the unfounded distrust and suspicions of purposes to force Kentucky out of the Union, at the point of the bayonet—which may have been strongly and wickedly engendered in the public mind in regard to my own position and that of the "State Guard," Now, therefore, I, BERIAH MAGOFFIN,

Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and Commander-in-Chief of all her military forces, on land or water, have issued this my proclamation, hereby notifying and warning all other States, whether separate or united, and especially the "United States" and the "Confederate States," that I solemnly forbid any movement upon the soil of Kentucky or the occupation of any port, post, or place whatever within the lawful boundary and jurisdiction of this State, by any of the forces under the orders of the States aforesaid, for any purpose whatever, until authorized by invitation or permission of the Legislative and Executive authorities of this State previously granted. I also hereby especially and solemnly forbid all good citizens of this Commonwealth, whether incorporated in the "State Guard" or otherwise, making any war-like or hostile demonstrations whatever against any of the authorities aforesaid, earnestly requesting all citizens, civil and military, to be obedient hereto; to be obedient to the laws and lawful orders of both the civil and military authorities; to remain when off military duty quietly and peaceably at their homes, pursuing their wonted lawful avocations; to re frain all words and acts likely to engender hot blood; and provoke collision; to pursue such a line of wise conduct as will promote

Gentlem peace and tranquility, and a sense of safety and security, and thus keep far away from our beloved land and people the deplorable ca-lamities of invasion; but at the same time earnestly counseling my fellow-citizens of Kentucky to make prompt and efficient preparations to assume the armor and attitude prescribed by the paramount and supreme TROCHES
